Income Guidelines:

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)

The SNAP program, formerly known as Food Stamps, is the largest federal nutrition assistance program. U.S. citizens and some groups of legal immigrants are eligible for assistance if they meet certain income and asset requirements.

- Households in Oregon qualify for SNAP/food stamps at or below 185% FPL.

Federal Child Nutrition Programs

Through the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs, schools provide students with nutritious meals to grow and learn. The Summer Food Service Program provides free meals and snacks to students when they are out of school. The At-Risk Meal and Snack Program provides suppers to children in after-school care and recreation programs.

- Families qualify for free school meals at or below 130% FPL. Reduced price meals have incomes between 130% and 185% FPL.
- The Summer Food Service Program is open to all children under 18 years.
- At-Risk Meal and Snack Program meals may be served in neighborhoods where 50% or more of the students qualify for free or reduced price meals.

Women, Infants and Children Program (WIC)

WIC serves low-income mothers and pregnant women, and their children up to age five years. WIC provides vouchers for specific nutritious foods along with nutrition education, breastfeeding support, and health care referrals.

- Pregnant and breastfeeding women, and families with children under five, qualify for the WIC program at or below 185% FPL.

WIC/Seniors Farm Direct Nutrition Program

The Farm Direct Nutrition Program assists low-income seniors and families enrolled in the WIC program. It helps them access fresh fruits and vegetables during the growing season and supports local farmers and farmers' markets.

- WIC participants qualify for Farm Direct at or below 185% FPL (with the exception of children 6 months and under).
- Seniors qualify when they receive SNAP/food stamps or Medicaid benefits, and have an income that does not exceed 115% FPL.

About this Fact Sheet:

Information on this fact sheet shows the use of federally funded nutrition programs among Oregon counties, and the level of untapped federal resources resulting from underutilization.

This is a joint project between the Oregon Hunger Task Force, the Oregon Department of Education, the Women, Infants & Children's Program (WIC), and the Oregon Food Bank.
